SPIRIT OF THE WATERS

TOTEM POLE JOURNEY

The University of Oregon welcomes Se'Si'Le, House of Tears Carvers, and The Natural History Museum for a series of events May 5th through 9th.

The Totem Pole Journey, led by Lummi carvers and organizers, brings together ceremony, art, science, spirituality, ancestral knowledge, and cross-cultural collaboration in support of the movement to remove the Snake River dams and restore to health the Snake River salmon and the orcas that depend on them.

Whale People: Protectors of the Sea is an outdoor exhibition featuring a 3,000 pound orca pole, salmon carvings, and an award-winning IMAX-style film projection that tells the story of today's environmental emergency through the figure of the orca.
